INSTALLATION INSTRUCTIONS

Your new Takedown stock is designed for “drop in” installation for all factory firearms; although, due to manufacturing variances in firearms, it is possible for a rifle to exist that will require some minor fitting. This should be done by a competent gunsmith. If you have any problems installing your OverMolded® Series Takedown Rifle Stock, please call us at (805) 239-1440. We will be glad to help make sure your stock fits perfectly.

1. Before starting to work, MAKE SURE RIFLE IS UNLOADED, REMOVE MAGAZINE, AND CHECK CHAMBER.

SEPARATE THE BARREL FROM THE RECEIVER:

2. Lock bolt back and verify rifle is unloaded. Push locking lever forward to unlock. Rotate barrel assembly counterclockwise. Remove barrel assembly from receiver (consult the firearm manufacturer's assembly instructions for complete instructions regarding barrel disassembly).

ACTION STOCK REPLACEMENT:

3. Remove the single screw from the underside of the stock. Before removing the action, center the safety button halfway between on and off. Then, by grasping the front of the action, lift up and forward (Figure A).

4. Install the action into your new Hogue stock in the reverse order, paying attention to properly seat the “Action Lug” into corresponding recess in the stock. The safety button must also be centered to allow installation. Reinstall the original screw and tighten firmly (Figure B).

FOREND REPLACEMENT:

5. Remove the barrel band (if any) from existing forend section. Remove the single screw from the underside of forend. Separate barrel from forend (Figure C).

6. Install new forend on barrel and reinstall original screw and tighten firmly. The barrel band is not used with the Hogue forend (Figure D).

7. Follow manufacturer's assembly instructions when combining barrel assembly with receiver.
